World Federalist Movement – Canada

How shall we govern a globalizing world?

In schoolyards, cities and democratically governed nations, agreed rules help ensure a peaceful social order. Why not for our global community?

Social and political stability rests on pillars of democracy, respect for diversity and the rule of law. These concepts are made concrete through parliamentary, judicial and executive structures. It is time to adapt this successful framework to create a stable and just global society.

A democratically governed world is a huge challenge. The necessary changes are coming about gradually. Each step makes another step possible.

World trade, terrorism, genocide, climate change, nuclear arms and war are global issues. They will transform our future; they already overwhelm some societies. World Federalists are not alone in proposing that global citizens should have a voice in that future and that democratically enacted law, not force, should rule. But...

World Federalists are unique in suggesting how.

Making a Difference

World Federalists don't just deplore war crimes; they successfully led the global coalition for an International Criminal Court to try the criminals, deter future crimes and avoid punishing whole nations for the misdeeds of their leaders.

World Federalists don't just protest the intrusiveness and lack of accountability of many international organizations. World federalists seek to democratize global governance. They advocate pragmatic measures for more involvement of civil society organizations and more parliamentary oversight.

(worldfederalistscanada.org/more/democracy.htm)

World Federalists don't just condemn genocide; they promote sound mechanisms to protect minorities, prevent conflict and create a UN rapid reaction capability.

(worldfederalistscanada.org/more/protect.htm)

World Federalists not only oppose unjust wars. They advocate measures to reform the United Nations and strengthen the rule of law.

Making it happen

WFM – Canada provides opinion and analysis to various governmental and non-governmental audiences. World federalism is a long-term ideal, with practical applications for today's global problems. Decision makers listen.

Membership crosses the political spectrum

Former Liberal cabinet minister Warren Allmand, Progressive Conservative cabinet minister Flora MacDonald, Senator Lois Wilson (Independent), and former Saskatchewan premier Allan Blakeney (NDP) have all served as WFMC national presidents in recent years.

World Federalist Movement – Canada was formed over 50 years ago to promote a more effective United Nations. It is a non-profit organization with members from across Canada, branches (www.vcn.bc.ca/wfcb/wfmssgblst.php) in most major Canadian cities and a Youth Network (worldfederalistscanada.org/youth.htm) active on a number of campuses. WFM is a member of the international World Federalist Movement (www.wfm.org), an association of world federalist organizations around the globe.
